On 08/17/2018 at approximately 1400 hours I was dispatched to a complaint of dogs attacking neighborhood chickens that were contained by the reporting party, in the woodland hills area of Utah County.

I arrived and met with the reporting party, but the dogs that she had contained on a leash in her yard had been picked up by the owner without her knowing.

He did call her and tell her that he came by and found the house vacant, so he took his dogs.

She had posted pictures on the neighborhood social media web page, where the owner of the dogs was identified.

She told me of others who had similar problems, and another call came in to dispatch while I was talking to her. After investigating the situation I determined that the same dogs were involved in the three separate attacks.

The owner of the dogs was identified and cited for two counts of dog at large and one count of a dog attacking another animal.

I was dispatched to an animal problem in Woodland Hills. Upon arrival, I found that the complainant's son was walking the Spanish Fork River Trail and a dog with a collar was following him. The dog followed him to his vehicle and was then transported to the complainant's home. I responded to the residence and then transported the dog to the South Valley Animal Shelter. A short time later, the owner of the animal called into dispatch and transferred to my phone.

I advised the owner he could pick the animal up the following day at the shelter.

On 12/1/18 I responded on a call for a welfare check. I spoke with the RP about the situation. She claimed her ex-husband was drunk (a violation of visitation order) and had threatened their son. I listened to the recording of the "threat" and explained that it wasn't in fact a threat LEO could take any sort of actions on. She understood and stated she was afraid our contact could make things worse. She decided she didn't want us to respond to the residence at this time. I stated I would try and be in the area in case further information developed and she wanted us to respond. NFA, no further information came in.
